

Granting this petition would undermine the viability of small local Internet service providers. These local ISP's are an important part of the information and communication resources of rural areas.